ALMOST 200 patients suffering injuries from serious assaults were treated by St Helens hospital staff, a new report has revealed.

Across the country the number of victims attending hospital fell from 146,060 to 133,896 last year although Merseyside had one of the worst rates.

The statistics are part of a report from the Health and Social Care Information Centre (HSCIC) that highlights a ma-majority of incidents were injuries sustained by males.

Figures for St Helens NHS show that on 190 occasions patients were admitted last year, at a rate of 10.8 per 10,000 of the population.

Youngster's poignant act to remember nan

A mum has spoken of her pride after her young daughter raised £900 for charity by having her long locks cut short in memory of her nan.

Rachel Penman, who is originally from St Helens but now lives in Up Holland, set up an online fund-raising page to help her daughter Catherine, who is known to friends and family as Kitty, with her charity campaign.

Kitty, eight, had her hair chopped into a short bob in aid of Pancreatic Cancer UK because her grandma Pauline Penman died after a short battle with the illness 10 years ago.

She also donated the hair to Little Princess Trust, which makes wigs for children who have become bald due to conditions ranging from alopecia to cancer.

Having originally set a target of £200 Kitty and her family have been astonished by the success of the fund-raising, with Rachel even renewing acquaintance with old friends from her hometown through the campaign.

Rachel, 36, said: "The response on social media has been unbelievable. There's even been people from St Helens who I went to school with but haven't seen for 20 years getting in touch and giving money."

"Kitty has been really brave, because she's always had quite long hair and cutting it so short is a huge thing for a little girl to decide to do.

"She never knew her nan but we try to keep her memory alive. My husband David and I said we should mark the 10 years since she died but then Kitty said she wanted to do something."

Rachel says the family is now considering doing other fund-raising events, with their next charity activity likely to be the Liverpool Santa Dash just before Christmas.

Edna's novel way of keeping young

A St Helens pensioner who re-homes 20,000 unwanted books a year has been named as a charity's top saleswoman.

Edna Harrison (pictured), 79, has raised thousands of pounds for housing body ExtraCare Charitable Trust, during her decade of volunteer work at its branch in Church Square Shopping Centre.

Her efforts include tracking down sought-after novels, with a waiting list of avid readers asking for books from top authors.

The gran-of-nine has even been back to college to gain her English Language GCSE - picking up an A grade.

Edna's passion for reading means she's now known as the Book Lady in St Helens, and for the seventh year she has been named as one of the company's top sellers. She deals with about 20,000 donated books every year, and has built up her domain into a library-like institution.

The mother of five and grandmother of nine, who lives in St Helens, said: "I do love my job here. I've got my own little corner and I've regular customers who come in and people who ask me to save things for them.

'I'll be 80 in September but I'm not going to retire, that word's not in my vocabulary'

"I've even been spotted in Birmingham by a man who knew me from the shop! I'm so glad to be here and I'll be 80 in September but I'm not going anywhere. Retire? That word's not in my vocabulary."

Church Square Shopping Centre manager Steven Brogan said: "Edna is an absolute star - people come to St Helens from all over to check out her wall of books and see what treasures they can find.

"It's great to see the work she puts in, all unpaid, to ensure that unwanted books bring new pleasure to people. Plus the donations from people for the books means that the charity can continue carrying out its excellent work."

ExtraCare is a charitable trust that collects money to help fund facilities for older people in housing schemes and retirement villages across the north of England and the Midlands.

Store manager Angela Connell said: "Edna is an absolute asset to our team. She has been with us 10 years now, which is longer than I have and she totally sorts our book collection, which is now enviable for a charity shop.

"She does it all herself and she's absolutely brilliant. She's been up there with the top sellers for the last seven years and she always keeps an eye on that and is constantly checking her figures."

Edna's love of books began at a young age and she remembers the first time she read the stories of Enid Blyton as a little girl.

She said: "I have loved reading all my life. My mother used to read to me and from the minute I could read myself I was hooked.

"My favourite book of all time would have to be Fields of Blood by Gerald Seymour.

"I keep up with all the latest publications too, but I'm not in to Mills & Boon - each to their own though and we do sell a lot of that. I sold a lot of Fifty Shades Of Grey too but I didn't read it myself.

"I had a flick through, but I'm not really interested!"

It was pure chance Edna ended up working at the store - she was in the centre when she saw a manager putting a notice in the window.

"They were looking for someone to specifically take on the role of Specialist Book Volunteer so I asked if I could do it," Edna explained.

"They said I could have a fortnight trial and I've been doing it ever since. I absolutely love it. But I'm just part of the team here and we all get on so well and all do our bit."

Encouraged by colleagues, Edna enrolled at St Helens College two years ago and did her GCSE in English Language.

She said: "I hadn't been in a school for 62 years but I loved it and I got an A. I wanted to stay on and do my A Level but it's all too computerised now and I'm an old fashioned person."

Merseyside's admission rate was 13 per 10,000 which, along with Greater Manchester (7.8) and West Yorkshire (7.7), was among the worst in the country.

A spokesman for St Helens NHS told the Reporter it was not their place to comment on the number of assault victims given that their injuries were not sustained on hospital grounds.

The majority of admissions across the country were recorded as assault by bodily force (18,135, 62.6 per cent) followed by assault by sharp object (3,614, 12.5 per cent), assault by unspecified means (2,142, 7.4 per cent) and assault by blunt object (2,050, 7.1 per cent).

'There are some assault types where the victims were predominantly female'

The report said: "A&E attendances due to assault were much higher for males than females, with males accounting for 71.3 per cent (95,460) of A&E attendances. However, over a five-year period the proportion of female attendances has increased from 25.6 per cent (49,063 of 191,351 in total) to 28.6 per cent (38,317 of 133,896 in total), indicating that A&E attendances caused by assault are reducing at a slower rate for females than males.

"Although the vast majority of assaults were carried out against males, there are some assault types where the victims were predominantly female, such as sexual assault by bodily force (154 admissions, 74.8 per cent) and other maltreatment (748 admissions, 60.8 per cent)."

A Department of Health spokeswoman said: "It is encouraging to see hospital admissions and A&E attendances due to assault continue to fall.

"More than 100 hospitals are sharing anonymous information with local community safety teams to help them successfully tackle violence in their communities."

Ceremony will honour pilot

St Helens pilot Norman Sutton's grave renovation and, inset, Norman, who was killed in action during the Battle of Britain

By ANDREW NOWELL
andrew.nowell@jpress.co.uk
@StHelensReport

A St Helens pilot who was killed in action during World War Two will be remembered on the 75th anniversary of his death.

A re-dedication ceremony will be held at the renovated grave of Norman Sutton, who died in the cockpit of his aircraft during the Battle of Britain 1940, aged just 26.

Mr Sutton was born in St Helens but spent much of his childhood in Yorkshire as his father Oliver, who worked for Pilkington Brothers, was sent to Bradford to act as an area sales representative.

He moved back to St Helens at some point during the 1930s and enlisted for the Royal Air Force volunteer forces shortly before the outbreak of war, losing his life just a few short days after being transferred to 72 Squadron.

His bravery will be commemorated in October - 75 years to the day since he was killed - in a ceremony organised by amateur historian Adrian Cork, who has been researching Mr Sutton's life as part of ongoing work to find out more about Battle of Britain pilots from the area.

Mr Cork, from Formby, is also hoping to find out more about the life of Mr Sutton's widow Joan Hankinson, with the couple tying the knot in February 1940 just a few months before his death.

Mr Cork said: "I've done quite extensive research into Norman's life but nobody really knows what happened to Joan after he was killed in action.

"I would be really interested in speaking to anyone who is related to her ahead of the re-dedication ceremony.

"When I first started researching him the grave was in an absolutely terrible state and had a yellow warning sticker on it, so I approached the cemetery and they said I could do something as the registered owner of the grave had not been in touch with them.

"We're going to re-dedicate the headstone which I've had renovated and hopefully the ceremony will be an appropriate commemoration of his courage."

Born in 1915, Mr Sutton followed in his father's footsteps both in work, where he also joined the staff of Pilkington Brothers, and in his military service as Oliver had flown planes in the RAF during World War One.

He had a keen interest in politics and was a member of a local Conservative Club, and joined 611 Squadron at RAF Speke in 1940 as a pilot.

He initially saw service patrolling the skies above Merseyside and the North West but as the Battle of Britain became more deadly he was transferred to 72 Squadron based at Biggin Hill.

He was killed just a few days into his time there as his Spitfire was involved in a mid-air collision with another plane

'Interested in speaking to anyone who is related'

and he was unable to bail out.

The re-dedication ceremony was the idea of historian Mr Cork, who has found out 14 pilots from the area served in the Battle of Britain and having written a book about five of them is now in the process of researching the others.

The ceremony at St Helens Cemetery will be attended by representatives from the Royal British Legion and 611 Squadron as well as the Friends of St Helens Cemetery, and Mr Cork also hopes a couple of surviving family members will attend.

He said: "Norman never had children so there's only his sister's three children, and I talked to his nephew who agreed to help me fund the renovation.

"I'm not sure how many people will come to the ceremony but it would be nice to get six or seven there."

The re-dedication ceremony at the grave of Norman Sutton will be at St Helens Cemetery on October 4.

Zoe proves to be a real frock star!

A MUM whose son was still-born has donated her wedding dress to support other families who have endured similar heartbreak.

Zoe Durling, 34, came across the Rock the Frock idea on a social media site she joined after losing son Aidan in 2009.

Now her strapless wedding dress, which has been in the loft for nearly 11 years, will be made into as many as 25 gowns for babies, as well as mittens, and booties.

Zoe joined 11 other women at a special donation event in Warrington, where they were attended to by professional make-up artists, hairdressers, and posed for the last time in their dresses.

Among those giving their services for free were staff from Acarli Lounge Hair, in St Helens.

Support worker Zoe, who also has eight and two-year-old sons with husband Alastair, said: "I'd seen this sort of charity in America and had been looking for a UK based one for well over a year when I discovered Cherished Gowns for Angel Babies UK in January. I'd been meaning to post my gown out for ages but never got round to it then saw this event.

"I'm so glad I did it, because my dress was just sitting there, gathering dust, and instead now it's being used to help other families get their child's forever outfit.

"When we lost our son our families spent hours trying to find something suitable, because he was so small.

"It's a difficult enough time as it is, and it's not something you want to ever go shopping for.

"But the wedding dress material is so beautiful and the volunteer seamstresses make just the sort of thing I was looking for. The idea is to get the outfits sent to hospitals across the country and they will be presented to families when needed."

Rock the Frock was organised by the Baby Loss Foundation and Hazel from Hazel Hughes Photograph as a joint venture for Cherished Gowns for Angel Babies UK, and in total, more than 30 dresses were collected.

Eleven brides were photographed at Daresbury Hotel in Warrington and Hazel, Arcari Lounge hair from St Helens, and makeup artists Gaele Mokoy, Sarah Allcock and Charlotte Metcalf gave their time for free to help.

Zoe added: "It was such a lovely occasion, we were made to feel really special.

"It was funny wearing the dress again, but I have to admit it was pinned up at the back!"

Working together to protect children

Merseyside's Police Commissioner Jane Kennedy called by St Helens' Multi Agency Safeguarding Hub (MASH) to meet those involved in its frontline delivery.

Based in Atlas House, Corporation Street - MASH, is the collocation and integration of St Helens Council's Children's Services team, Merseyside Police, Bridgewater Community Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust and the Catch 22 Service which enables them to respond more effectively to child safeguarding concerns.

The hub also acts as a secure environment for partners to share information in order to quickly identify and assess risks.

This in turn ensures that professionals within the MASH are able to make necessary and proportionate intervention decisions based on the best possible information available at a given time.

She said: "The MASH is an essential element of the new Victim Care Merseyside service, which aims to ensure people with the greatest need are directed to the best placed team to help them.

"For vulnerable young people, the MASH is that team. By having all the agencies that are involved in safeguarding our children and young people under one roof, we are ensuring the best possible arrangements are in place to protect them."

Coun Sue Murphy, Statutory Lead for Children's Services for St Helens Council added: "This will mean that we act faster to protect children who are at risk, but also we won't go down a child protection route when an offer of family support is more appropriate".

ADVERTISING FEATURE

Campaign to make our spaces safer for everyone

St Helens is working to make safer spaces.

This year's Safespace campaign is now well underway as it aims to target all aspects of anti-social behaviour in St. Helens.

Anti-social behaviour constitutes a wide range of activity including illegal fires, noisy neighbours, littering, vandalism or violence.

The Anti-Social Behaviour Act 2014 defines anti-social behaviour as "conduct which caused, or is likely to cause, harassment, alarm or distress to any person"

The St. Helens Community Safety Partnership started the campaign focussing on off-roading and the dangers and risks such activity poses.

Cabinet Member for Transport, Housing and Community Safety, Councillor Richard McCauley said, "We have had some serious incidents involving off-road vehicles in the past and sooner or later we are concerned there's going to be another serious accident involving one of these machines.

"Apart from the danger they pose to themselves, many of these riders are untrained, putting families, dog walkers and young children at risk.

"Also many of these scrambler bikes, quad bikes and minimoto are uninsured, taxed or MOT'd."

The summer months also result in more social drinking due to the lighter nights and warmer weather too and this month alone

St Helens has seen an increase in rowdy and inconsiderate behaviour.

Peter Mallett, Neighbourhood Crime and Justice Coordinator for the council says: "Everyone should be able to enjoy the summer months, but late night BBQs and outdoor drinking should be carried out taking into account local surroundings and neighbours.

"Our parks should also be treated with respect as we often find disposal BBQs left, which are not only a potential fire-risk but also a danger to children."

Residents can help keep parks and open spaces safe by reporting incidents (preferably as they happen) to Merseyside Police on 101.

NOT IN OUR PARKS!

Always think about how your behaviour affects others.

Anti-social behaviour and violence will not be tolerated.

Report anti-social behaviour to Merseyside Police on 101. In an emergency call 999.

Can you help solve mystery of Irish railway worker Peter?

By ANDREW NOWELL
andrew.nowell@jpress.co.uk
@sthelensreport

RESIDENTS are being asked to help solve a mystery around the fate of a man from Ireland who lost contact with his family more than 60 years ago.

The family of Peter Conneely, who left Galway to work in Manchester but last spoke to his relations in the 1950s, have been guided to St Helens in their long search to find out what happened to him.

Mr Conneely's uncle John, who now lives in County Galway, has discovered the records of a Peter Connelly who worked as a railway worker and died following a heart attack in December 1981.

John is wondering if, despite the slight variation in spelling on the death certificate, this person may actually be his missing uncle and is appealing for anyone who may have known him to get in touch.

John, 51, said: "The burial records tell us originally he was to be buried in a public grave in St Helens but this was cancelled at the last minute and a funeral service took place.

"What I think might have happened is a group of his co-workers may have paid for the funeral, but there's no headstone on the plot.

"Unfortunately neither the burial record or the death certificate contain a date of birth, which means we are unable to establish whether this is my missing uncle.

"I would like to be put in touch with anyone who may have known this Peter Connelly."

John's research shows Peter Connelly's address was listed on Prescott Road, not far from Thatto Heath railway station, and the death was registered by a Patrick James Monaghan.

'I think a group of his co-workers may have paid for his funeral'

Burial records indicate the arrangements for the funeral in St Mary's Lowe House on January 5 1982 were made by John Smee. John's uncle was one of thousands of people who left rural Ireland in search of work in the 1950s, departing from his hometown of Siddal in Connemara and heading to Manchester with his brother Patrick.

He was a tall man around 6ft 3ins who had dark hair and was also a native Irish speaker. The two brothers worked together for a while but then simply lost contact, something John says was not as unusual as it may at first sound.

He said: "Irish people were

The death certificate for Peter Connelly, who died in St Helens in 1981 and, right, John Conneely, who is trying to find out more about his uncle leaving in their thousands at the time because there was so much work in the UK with construction projects and the motorways being built.

"People from Connemara were well known for being strong so they were much in demand and getting work all over the place.

"Irish people in Britain could literally work with someone one day and the next day they could have gone off to work somewhere else.

"It was a very exciting time and they had a great time, but somehow my father and my uncle lost touch. He could have gone almost anywhere."

The bank will now open longer on Mondays to Fridays from 9am to 5pm, as it tries to support customers by making it more convenient for them to do their everyday banking.

Dan Wikberg, Branch Manager at TSB in Sutton, St Helens said: "It's important that our customers can do their banking at a time which suits them.

"Our customers in St Helens have told us they would really benefit from extended opening hours at the branch which is exactly why we are staying open later throughout the week"

'This is what I can do to help'

 sophie.arnold@press.co.uk
 @StHelenReport

A GRANDMA has sacrificed her hair for charity because she is unable to take part in a fun run.

When Jacqueline Carrol's daughter Dawn Murphy, 40, and granddaughter Kate Murphy, 21, decided to sign up to the Manchester Electric Run to raise money for breast cancer charities, she didn't want to be left out.

But after suffering a stroke 11 years ago, the former business owner, from Haydock, is unable to run or walk very well - so she decided to shave her head instead.

"I can't run and I can't walk very well but what I can do is shave my head, I've seen it done before and lots of money is raised," said the 62-year-old.

"Many of my friends, family and neighbours have suffered with breast cancer, we all know someone affected, so I am doing something about it with my precious daughter and granddaughter."

Jacquie, who loves nothing more than having her hair done, approached Josh Finch, the manager of Urban Hair in Haydock to ask how much a head shave would cost.

But after learning why she was doing it, Josh offered to shave her hair for free.

Josh said: "We try and do what we can to help charity and with this being three Haydock girls, mum, daughter and granddaughter, I had to help."

Jacquie was spurred on by

Jacqueline Carrol with salon manager Josh Finch

Josh and as she started to talk about the event everywhere she went, she started to sell raffle tickets to raise money for the appeal. Helena Housing also offered their lounge and facilities so Jacquie could hold a fun day last Friday to raise money even more money for their chosen charities.

Jacquie, who used to own Mayfair sandwich bar and Bronze and Beautiful before her stroke, said: "After seeing Josh, I got the help and support from Helena Housing. I went into each of the businesses in our village area around Clipsley Lane to ask for raffle prizes.

"I was so proud that some of the businesses that helped me, I want to publicly thank those firms I received donated prizes from obviously Josh at Urban Hair, Dorothy's Hair, Sunnies Beauty Lounge, Pit-stop Auto shop and of course

'I can't run, I can't walk very well but what I can do is shave my head to raise cash'

Helena Housings O'Connell close management and staff"

Jacquie had her hair shaved last week and has so far raised £465 but is hoping the total will be much more after Urban Hair's owner Peter Leonard offered to donate 10 per cent of their takings over the next week and a half.

Ramblers help to survey footpaths

Over the last year, local members of the Ramblers' Association have been helping St Helens Council in surveying 120 miles of Public Right of Way within the borough.

Ramblers' Association Chair, John Barker, who organised and coordinated the survey said: "The survey has been undertaken in conjunction with St Helens Council's Rights of Way Officer James Widdop following the council's offer of assistance. We have surveyed 360 footpaths and tracks assessing 'ease of use'.

"Undertaking the survey has made our members participating more aware of the local footpath network across St Helens and the opportunities that can be enjoyed."

Coun Richard McCauley, St Helens Council's Cabinet Member for Transport, Housing and Community Safety said: "We are proud to have 41 per cent of Merseyside's Public Right of Way Network here in St Helens, but the surveying and maintaining of so many miles of footpaths and tracks in rural areas incurs a significant cost.

"At a time of Government austerity, the local authority is ever grateful to the voluntary work undertaken by members of the Ramblers' Association - they've been a huge help to us in maintaining our great network. I would encourage everyone to get out there and use the borough's path network.

"A well maintained path network provides wider public benefits by encouraging other forms of sustainable transport, reducing congestion and pollution, offering alternative access to areas of employment for those without their own transport and can increase the health and wellbeing of residents in the borough."

Meanwhile to celebrate National Allotment Week, Havannah Lane Allotment will be hosting an Open Day attended by Mayor of St Helens, Coun Steve Glover, with a tombola and various cake and vegetable stalls.

Aside from delicious, additive-free and cost-effective food, allotments also produce a wonderful community spirit, so why not get involved at the Parr site on Saturday, August 22 from 12 - 4pm.

Sporty youngsters make the most of summer

SPORTY St Helens youngsters have beat the summer holiday boredom by getting stuck in an array of activities.

Held at Selwyn Jones Sports Centre, Inspired Sports Holiday Camp allowed children aged four to 11 years to try their hand at various indoor and outdoor activities including hockey and football with fully qualified coaches.

These events will last for the whole of the five week school holidays and has proved to be a hit with many families.

St Helens Council's Cabinet Member for Public Health and Wellbeing, Coun Andy Bowden, said: "The Inspired Sports Holiday Camp is a fun way to keep your children active over the summer holidays and will have a great impact on their health and wellbeing, for it promotes mental and physical fitness, social behaviour and encourages team spirit and fair play."

For £10 per day, children can enjoy a week of activities resulting in competitions and challenges, with a trophy presentation on the final day that parents can attend.

Discounts will be available for families bringing more than one child, while Go Active members will receive £5 off the price of a full week.

Spaces can now be reserved for the October half term sessions at Selwyn Jones Sports Centre and Sutton Leisure Centre commencing Monday October 26.

For more information, or to book a place on the sports camp, contact 01744 677970 for Selwyn Jones or 01744 677375 for Sutton Leisure Centre.

Residents' views on fire station futures

A 12-week consultation on the future of fire stations in St Helens has now started.

Residents are being asked to voice their views on two proposals to help the fire service cope with budget cuts.

One option is the merger of Eccleston and St Helens stations with a new site being built on Canal Street.

The alternative is an outright closure of Eccleston and keeping St Helens on its current site.

The consultation runs until October 25 when the results will be reported back to the fire authority.

A number of public meetings have been scheduled to discuss the proposals.

Chief Fire Officer Dan Stephens said: "The proposals are intended to minimise the impact of the ongoing cuts and maintain as fast a response as possible to all parts of St Helens district."

Merseyside Fire and Rescue Service has had to make

Eccleston fire station could be merged under the plans savings of £20m, bosses have said. St Helens North MP Conor McGinn said: "It is vital each proposal is scrutinised in full and that average response times will not be increased by merging these stations."

The public meetings will take place at Cowley College from 6.30pm on September 29, St Augustine of Canterbury High, from 6.30pm on October 1 and at St Helens Town Hall, 6.30pm on Oct 6. An online questionnaire is available at an online questionnaire at www.surveymonkey.com/s/sthelensmerger

Coun Sue Murphy

Top police role for local councillor

A St Helens councillor and cabinet member has been selected as the new Deputy Police and Crime Commissioner for Merseyside.

Coun Sue Murphy, who holds the local authority's portfolio for children, families and young people, was selected from a seven-candidate list.

The part-time role will see Coun Murphy deputise for Police Commissioner Jane Kennedy as well as focusing on restorative justice, victim support services and community safety issues.

Coun Murphy will continue to represent Billinge and Seneley Green ward in the council chamber but will no longer hold her cabinet role.

Coun Murphy said: "I have been passionate about serving my community and acting as a spokesperson for local people for many years and I am honoured that I will now be able to fulfil this role for the whole of Merseyside.

"This is a great opportunity to work alongside the commissioner and with a whole range of partners on some of the issues that matter most to our communities and I am really excited to start work.

"As all our budgets continue to shrink, it is even more vital that we pull together to find new ways of working in order to cut crime and keep all our communities safe."

Police and Crime Commissioner Ms Kennedy said: "I am delighted Sue will be joining my team to work alongside me in serving the people of Merseyside, listening to their views and working to keep all our communities safe.

"The quality of the candidates who applied for this position was very high, but Sue stood out as having an exceptional track record and a level of experience that I am sure will be invaluable in providing the best possible support for victims and vulnerable people."

St Helens Council leader Barrie Grunewald said he expected the vacant cabinet position to be filled within the next few weeks.

Coun Grunewald said: "I am obviously sorry to lose such a capable individual but the role of Deputy Commissioner is extremely important and I warmly congratulate Sue on her appointment."

COURT REPORTER

Shopkeepers alerted

Shopkeepers are being urged to be on their guard against a distraction scam.

It follows an attempted shoplifting incident that happened at a store in Leigh, but police believe it could be repeated across the North West.

They have now released CCTV footage of this incident to both warn shopkeepers of the scam and to identify those involved.

Three people – one man and two women – entered the store and the man distracted the shopkeeper by asking for his mobile phone to be unlocked. One of the women then stood between the man and the third woman in an attempt to block the view of the shopkeeper, at which point the third woman is captured on CCTV clearly taking a tablet computer from the counter and concealing it under her jacket.

The shopkeeper however witnessed what happened and told her to put the tablet back, which the woman did, and the trio left.

Police are now appealing to anyone with information about the trio to come forward and are warning shopkeepers to be vigilant.

PCSO Sean Hurst said: "This was a brazen attempt to distract the shopkeeper and steal a tablet computer.

"Viewing the CCTV, it looks very much like a well-rehearsed plan to distract the shopkeeper so they could steal the computer, so we cannot discount the possibility this has either happened before or they could try it again.

Anyone with information should call police on 101 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

DENTAL

So you think you're fit &
healthy?

We all like to think we are fit and healthy with a whopping 4.5 million UK adults having a gym membership* - but what if being physically fit just isn't enough?

Gum disease has now been linked to serious health problems including diabetes, stroke and heart disease*

This means that no matter how much you train at the gym and adopt a healthy diet, if you neglect your mouth the illnesses you think you are avoiding may well make an appearance.

How does a dentist or hygienist check your gum (periodontal) health?

As with most health checks numbers are important especially when it comes to things like cholesterol and blood pressure and your mouth is no different. Gums are given a BPE (Basic Periodontal Examination), measured with a special instrument and given a number from 0 - 4 to form a "perio grid". Low scores indicates a healthy mouth while high scores means there may be problems present.

ARE YOU UP FOR THE CHALLENGE?

Book a Gum Health Check appointment between the - 1st July to 31st August and:

1. Pay just £35
2. Show us a valid gym membership when you are at your appointment and we will refund you £10.
3. Score 0 or 1s on your gum health score and we will refund the lot!
4. Score 3s & 4s and we will give you all the help and advice on how to get those gums healthy!

Come and have a go if you think you're healthy enough!

Apprentices rewarded for their efforts

Advanced and Higher Apprentices from St Helens attended the UK's biggest graduation last week to formally recognise and celebrate their achievements.

The high-profile event at the Liverpool Anglican Cathedral saw around 1,000 apprentices and their friends, family and employers attend the event Liverpool City Region Apprenticeship Hub.

Speakers on the day included entrepreneur and star of BBC's The Apprentice, Neil Clough, who reached the

Massively beneficial for what they bring to the economy semi-finals of the show in 2013. He said: "Apprenticeships are massively beneficial, not only to the apprentices who are learning skills and earning while they learn, but also for what they bring to the economy, by getting more people into business and helping businesses to thrive and succeed, which is why it's so important to recognise this achievement with events like this graduation ceremony."

The Apprenticeship graduation ceremony is part of a nationwide campaign to give apprentices the same recognition that university students receive upon the completion of a degree. It has also helped to raise awareness of the great employment opportunities available to young people from the Liverpool City Region boroughs, Halton, Knowsley, Liverpool, St Helens, Wirral, who choose the apprenticeship route.

Almost 10,000 learners started a Higher Apprenticeship in England during 2012/13, with key employers including Jaguar Land Rover, Barclays, For and BT. When combined, an Advanced Apprenticeship is equivalent to 2 A level passes and higher Apprenticeships from levels 4, 5, 6 or 7 form the equivalent of Foundation degree level right up to Masters Level.

Lynn to sing for hospice

Rainhill soprano Lynn Jones will be performing a packed programme of songs from the shows and classical favourites at St Thomas Church, Westfield Street, Eccleston on Friday, September 4 at 7.30pm.

Lynn, a former volunteer and recipient of day therapy at the hospice, will be supported by Aughton Male Voice Choir, 10 year old local singing sensation Daisy Wilson and guitarist/vocalist Alex Roberts.

Lynn said: "The team at Wilton Brook do an amazing job and I'm glad I can help to raise funds for them by doing something that I love." Tickets cost £6 and are available from Lynn on 07754 773089. There will also be a prize raffle drawn during the evening.

New bookworm challenge

BOOKWORMS in St Helens are being invited to take part in a record breaking summer. St Helens libraries are running the Summer Reading Challenge, which asks four to 11-year-olds to borrow and read any six library books over the summer, until September 11. The theme this year is Record Breakers, thanks to a partnership with Guinness World Records. To take part in the challenge, children need to sign up at their nearest library. As they borrow and read at least six library books over the summer, they collect stickers to complete a poster they are given and. Other events at St Helens libraries include craft sessions, Read and Rhyme Times and family game sessions. More information can be found at www.sthelens.gov.uk/libraries.

Insurance company's generous celebration

An insurance company was in top gear when it comes to charity fund-raising as it handed over a huge anniversary donation.

Motorcycle insurance brokers Carole Nash celebrated their 30th anniversary by handing over a cheque for £7,500 to the Knowsley-based North West Air Ambulance Charity.

The firm divided a pot of £30,000 between five good causes to mark the milestone birthday, with Carole Nash staff voting for which charities they thought should benefit.

The air ambulance charity will use the cash for the day-to-day running of its helicopters which help doctors and paramedics provide rapid treatment for patients across the region.

Liz Greenwood, the charity's fund-raiser for the Manchester and East Lancashire areas, commented: "Just as many critically injured patients would not survive without the service that we provide, our charity would not be here without the generosity of the North West community and local companies like Car-

Motorbike insurance brokers Carole Nash handing over a cheque for £7,500 to The North West Air Ambulance Charity, based in Knowsley ole Nash.

"This donation will go a long way to helping raise the funds it costs to keep our three helicopters operational and saving lives across the North West."

The other charities which came out on top of the poll of Carole Nash employees were The Christie Hospital, the Counselling and Family Centre, Forever Manchester and road safety organisation Brake.

This will help keep helicopters operational and saving lives

David Newman, Carole Nash CEO, said: "We're extremely proud to be celebrating our 30th anniversary as a business this year. This historic achievement, as well as our continued growth and success, is testament to the talent and dedication of our colleagues, many of whom have been with us since the very early days of the business.

"But we also understand the key role played by our customers."

Neighbour confronts tea-time burglar

Detectives in St Helens are investigating after a man was assaulted after being confronted by a burglar who had broken into a neighbour's house.

The 50-year-old man had gone to investigate after hearing a noise coming from his next door neighbour's house in Eaton Road, Dentons Green at around 5pm, on Monday, August 3.

As he entered the house he was confronted by an unknown man who then assaulted him before leaving the property via a rear door.

It is believed the offender then climbed over the rear fence into the grounds of St Helens Crematorium.

The 50-year-old was treated in hospital for a small cut to his head and has been left distressed following the incident. No-one else was in the property at the time.

The offender is described as being a white, in his early 20s, of a stocky build and with pale skin. He was wearing dark coloured clothing.

Detective Inspector Paul Unsworth said: "I want to reassure people that incidents like this are very rare and we are doing everything we can to establish the full circumstances surrounding this incident to trace and arrest the person responsible.

"I would urge anyone who saw anything suspicious near to the property around 5pm on that night, or has any other information which could help us, to get in touch. No matter how trivial you think that information is, it could prove vital to the investigation."

Anyone with any information is asked to call detectives at St Helens CID on 0151 777 6881 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Sex charge

A man has been charged in connection with a sexual assault, after a 17-year-old was sexually assaulted as she walked along a path near Ravenhead Road on July 15. Mark Owen McCauley, 25, of North Road, will appear at Liverpool Crown on August 17.

Providing support to help youngsters

SCORECARDS have been launched to help councils get more young people into work, education or training.

Published by the Department of Education, the scorecards will allow councils to see how they compare to other local authorities in reducing the number of young people who are not in education, employment or training (NEET).

Skills minister Nick Boles announced last week that the NEET scorecards will be published annually to allow councils to identify areas where they could improve.

More 16 to 18 year olds are classed as NEETs in St Helens, 6.6 per cent, than the average of 4.7 per cent but this has fallen from 7.3 per cent at the end of 2013 and 7.8 per cent at the end of 2012.

A council spokesman said: "Effective tracking identifies young people at risk of becoming NEET - and ensures intensive support to either sustain a placement or find a suitable alternative. Our strategy highlights the need for NEET data to be analysed by the local authority - enabling resources to be deployed effectively.

"These resources target and engage young people in the most challenging wards. It's an approach that helps young people to remove the barriers to employment.

"Advice is also given to young people before they start training programmes. The council's Engagement Service targets vulnerable groups, using professional guidance advisers to coach them through the process and into sustainable employment.

"Ring fenced work experience opportunities for vulnerable NEET young people - with both the council and local employers - have also equipped many young people with valuable skills."

The scorecards rate a council's performance in a number of areas - including how well they are tracking young people's activity and helping them identify where they can improve.

Music group's silver anniversary concert

By SOPHIE ARNOLD
sophie.arnold@jpress.co.uk
@Sthelensreport

St Helens Organ and Keyboard Society celebrated its 25th anniversary with an extra special concert at West Park Rugby Club.

The Silver Jubilee concert added lustre with the presence of the Mayor and Mayoress of St Helens, Couns Steve and Lynn Glover in attendance.

East met West as the society had engaged Japanese celebrity musician Chio Sunamoto to perform both solo and in duet with partner, Yorkshire organist Jon Smith.

It is rare for the society to present two artists on one evening but Chairman Ken Westhead said: "We thought as we will be celebrating such a momentous birthday we all deserved an extra treat."

Chio Sunamoto has long been an established and much loved performer and was a principal international concert artiste for Yamaha and decided to make her permanent home in the UK. She has for several years performed duets with fellow musician Jon Smith and they produce a superb show.

Ken Westhead went on to say: "The members and committee are very proud that the society has continued without any breaks for a quarter of a century and are excited to be celebrating our silver jubilee with what promises to be a sensational concert.

"Some of our members are players and derive great inspiration from our monthly concerts whilst others just enjoy listening and making new friends. We are also delighted that our regular venue has recently been completely refurbished and this adds to the atmosphere tremendously".

Barrie Grunewald

Happy for Sue to take new role

MANY congratulations to my colleague St Helens Councillor Sue Murphy, who has been selected to be the Deputy Police and Crime Commissioner for Merseyside.

Sue will deputise for the Police Commissioner, Jane Kennedy, when necessary and focus specifically on victim support services, community safety issues, and restorative justice.

She will be relinquishing her role as Cabinet Member for Children, Families and Young People, but will continue to represent the Billinge and Seneley Green Ward.

Obviously I'm sorry to lose such a capable individual from my Cabinet but the role of Deputy Commissioner is extremely important and I warmly congratulate Sue on her appointment.

It underlines the quality of the work carried out by Sue in St Helens over recent years and I know she will be a success in the future. We're extremely pleased to see a continued focus on community safety and I know that Sue is well placed to lead on such an issue for the whole of Merseyside. It's a great appointment.

I'll be making an announcement about Sue's replacement on Cabinet in due course. I NEVER cease to be appalled at the way some unscrupulous individuals prey on elderly and vulnerable people.

Nationally there are around 200,000 victims of scam mail, with an average age of 74. The total amount scammed from them is estimated at £13 million – which works out at £1,184 per person. These unscrupulous connen are targeting the elderly, who cannot afford to lose this sort of money.

So I was pleased to see our Trading Standards Officers working with Merseyside Police to protect some of those conned by floods of scam mail.

They've been working through a list, seized from an unscrupulous scammer, and are returning cash, cheques and postal orders – retrieved from scam mail businesses at their premises and postal hubs – to the victims.

They've visited around 25 St Helens residents, who over the last five years or so, have lost at least £82,000 between them. Most of the victims are over 70 and live alone, with some receiving around 100 scam letters a week.

During these visits they help them to stop receiving the mail – and encouraging them to stop responding. Details of the scammers are then shared with the Police and other enforcement agencies, with a view to taking enforcement action whenever possible.

But we need everyone to help us with this. So if you think you, or someone you know has been scammed, report it to Trading Standards on 01744 676299 or tradingstandards@sthelens.gov.uk.

Fix your mortgage rate, homeowners warned

High street lenders have increased the cost of dozens of mortgage deals in the past month

Homeowners considering remortgaging were today urged to move fast as fixed rate mortgages start to nudge higher.

High street lenders have increased the cost of 36 mortgage deals during the past month, compared to rises on just six products in January, as they prepare for a rise in the official cost of borrowing.

Increases have been made by a number of major banks, including Lloyds, Halifax, first direct and Santander, while other groups have withdrawn some deals completely.

The price hikes have led to the average cost of a two-year fixed rate mortgage for borrowers with a 40 per cent deposit rising to 1.86 per cent, up from 1.81 per cent at the beginning of July, according to financial information group Moneyfacts.

Typical prices on five-year deals for people borrowing up to 60 per cent of their property's value have also risen, to stand at 2.59 per cent, compared with 2.54 per cent a month ago.

The group said it was the first increase in the average rate charged to borrowers with a large deposit for 12 months.

MORTGAGE RATES

The rise in mortgage rates comes as little surprise, after Bank of England governor Mark Carney recently warned that the Bank Rate could start to increase at the turn of the year.

The price hikes have led to the average cost of a two-year fixed rate mortgage for borrowers with a 40 per cent deposit rising to 1.86%

Today's news on mortgages comes as the Bank's Monetary Policy Committee begins its two-day interest rate-setting meeting.

Commentators have predicted that up to three members of the committee could vote for a rate hike this month, although the majority of the committee is expected to vote to keep interest rates on hold at their current record low of 0.5 per cent.

Rachel Springall, of Moneyfacts, urged any borrowers who were still sitting on their lender's standard variable rate to move fast and remortgage before the cost of fixed rate deals rose further.

She said: "People with higher loan to value mortgages need to try to fix onto a good rate now.

"Mortgages that are seen to be more high risk will be the ones lenders look to re-price first."

But she added that while lenders had increased rates on 36 mortgages during the past month, some had continued to cut the cost of their loans, and there were still good deals available.

A 0.25 per cent increase in the Bank Rate would increase repayments on a variable rate £150,000 mortgage by around £17 a month or £204 a year.

But in his recent speech Carney implied the Bank Rate could be increased to 2.25 per cent over the medium term.

A hike of this level would cost households with a £150,000 mortgage an extra £126 a month or £1,512 a year.

FOUR BEDROOM VICTORIAN TERRACED HOUSE

Built When Space and Quality Mattered! This is a substantial Victorian terraced house with some much space it's hard to know where to start. There are three reception areas as well as a large kitchen with a utility room beyond and moving upstairs there are four good-sized bedrooms across two floors, with family bathroom and an en-suite thrown in. Situated off the beat-en track even the location is fab! D61

£189,995
4 BEDROOMS

Canon-Brig Barn, Rainford £795,000

Classic Conversion! This four / five bedroom detached barn conversion has been undertaken with a fabulous specification. Not only has the conversion created the bedrooms with three bathrooms but there is a brilliant amount of living accommodation including a stunning orangery. The property sits within a private complex and has its own grounds to the rear with open land beyond. This is a genuine "see it to believe it" property. PART EXCHANGE CONSIDERED. C69

Howards Lane, Eccleston POA

This substantial four double bedroomed detached home has many features. The rooms on the ground floor are larger than might be expected, the breakfast kitchen is a great place to start the day, with the conservatory a lovely place to finish the day. The gardens make for an attractive and functional space, with 1500 sq ft of space. D63

Ranworth Gardens, Sutton Heath £247,950

All good things come in three's and four's. So for starts, three storeys, then four bedrooms, four reception areas, two bathrooms - one of which is an absolute gem. And for that matter the whole property has been finished and decorated with a very tasteful, quality eye. Set in a cul-de-sac on the edge of the development the property also boasts a rear garden with access via a drive to the integral garage. And to top it all?, a first floor conservatory, beat that! C74

Brookside Ave, Eccleston £210,000

Stunning! This is a lovely example of a three bedroom semi detached house set in a popular part of Eccleston. The property has been extended to the rear which creates an extra room (used as a breakfast room) and a larger kitchen. The rear gardens are larger than might be extended and the property also boasts a garage. With this location, this space and this finish you have a winner! D57

Salhouse Gdns, Lea Green £172,500

Extra, Extra, Read All About It! This lovely example of a family town house has more extras than you can shake a stick at ... of course there is an extra floor, then four bedrooms rather than three (but if you want it to be three then there is extra living space instead), and there are three bathrooms. Then how about a lounge dining room, or would you rather a kitchen diner (its got both). The utility room is an ideal extra for the family. Outside you get a nice enclosed garden and a garage. C79

Easington Rd, Nutgrove £165,000

Commanding! Being at the rural end of Easington Road this lovely three bedroom semi-detached house has some great views from its elevated position. The property is in excellent condition and decorative state, and has made for a fabulous family home over the years. The fixtures and fittings are modern and well-fitted, and contribute to making this a ready to move into family home.

The Shires, St Helens £160,000

Lots to See! This semi detached house has been extended to the side to create some really useful extra space. There are four bedrooms and two bathrooms, and to go with this a large conservatory to the rear creates some more all-important living space. With all of this going on there is still a secluded garden to the rear and plenty of parking to the front. The full package? C77

Sutton Park Drive, Sherdley Park £160,000

How You Do It Is Up To You!! The layout of the detached house is such that you can mix the rooms up as you want, there could be extra bedrooms making four in total or you could have extras living rooms instead, or maybe a study or a sewing room, who knows? For certain though this is a well presented property with a tasteful décor and it does come complete with a conservatory and a garage. E42

Windle St, Cowley Hill £159,950

Pension Fund? This property has been converted into four apartments across two floors. Within each apartment is a lounge, kitchen, bedroom and bathroom/shower room. The property has in addition a cellar and a decent size garden to the rear. Of course the most important thing is the yield and this represents a gross turnover of £14,700 pa.

Spinnars Drive, Sutton £149,995

Home Spun Home! Situated on Spinnars Drive this modern detached house is tailor-made as a family home. There are three bedrooms, two bathrooms plus en-suite, two reception rooms and a family size garden. The front lounge is at the larger end of the scale. The estate is proving to be a popular place to live so now is your chance. C70

Severn Road, Rainhill £148,500

A Titchmarsh Treat? Well you have guessed it, this three bedroom semi-detached house has some great gardens. From the beautifully kept lawns to the colourful flower beds, all to be viewed from the pleasant patio complete with a pergola, there are even a couple of gardeners sheds. Internally you also get two decent reception rooms (views across the rear garden). Let's not forget the garden and parking to the front. All in all a great family home.

Lowther Crescent, Eccleston Park £139,000

This is proving to be a popular little development and this three bedroom mews style property will be a welcome addition to what is available. There are two bathrooms as well as the bedrooms, the kitchen is a modern fitted example and the other rooms will not disappoint. In fact we advise not to hang around and have a viewing. C77

Stirling Crescent, Sherdley Park £134,995

A neat and tidy example of a family home. With three bedrooms this semi detached house has the added bonus of some very nice ground floor accommodation all of which is benefiting a family. The garage can still be used as just that!, and the gardens are well kept. The location of course is about as handy as it could be, with school, station and link road all within easy reach. D61

Dunster Grove, Sutton Leach £130,000

Pushed Out and Tucked Away! Having been converted on the ground floor this semi-detached house has some really useful space, the extra room can be your fourth bedroom, your study or a quiet kid-free sitting room, you choose! And if that wasn't enough there is a conservatory to the rear as well. Nice gardens, off road parking and all within a cul-de-sac. E51

Markfield Crescent, Islands Brow £125,000

Slightly Elevated! This semi-detached home has a rear garden that will certainly leave you with that feeling, there is also a raised seating area in addition. Internally the property is nicely presented with both a modern kitchen and modern bathroom. There is a garage to the side along with an ample front garden. D58

Pennine Drive, Ashtons Green £125,000  Push, push! This end of terrace house has taken advantage of its corner plot position and pushed right out to the side to create a great family home. The through lounge is complemented by a further sitting room (should you need to hide the kids). The kitchen is both well set out and spacious. There are four bedrooms and a fab bathroom on the first floor. And there is still room to push more! C72	Sutton Heath Rd, Sutton Heath £119,500  Modern Living with Green Spaces! Situated in Sutton Heath this modern three bedroom end of terrace home not only boasts extra space to the side for parking but has a downstairs loo, and is situated across from an open space. This area of St. Helens is great for both road and rail commuting. Within the property are all of the modern touches you would expect. C73	Brookhouse Grove, Eccleston £110,000  Mid Terraced House 3 bedrooms Presented to a high standard throughout Gas central heating and Upvc double glazing Front garden Enclosed rear garden	Bideford Ave, Sutton Leach £105,000  Ever Popular! Situated on the "Devon" side of Sutton Leach this three bedroom semi detached house is a classic for the area. There are gardens front and rear as well as a drive for parking. Internally the property has a nice bathroom and a well equipped kitchen. A good place to start? E54	Oppenheim Ave, Grange Park £78,500  Stocky and Well-Built! That's certainly something that can always be claimed about this style of semi-detached property. This example boasts two decent bedrooms and some interesting spaces on the ground floor. Set in grounds that would put some more modern homes to shame, the property certainly has masses of potential. D67
--	---	--	--	--

Barwell Ave, Islands Brow £145,000  Don't Worry, You Haven't Lost The Plot, IT'S HERE! This three semi detached house whilst on the outside seems like many others on the estate, you just have to step through the double gates to see the potential to extend and develop this into a great home. The amount of land available to both the side and rear does have to be seen to provoke the imagination. F37	Brynn Street, Town Centre £144,000  A great opportunity to acquire a plot of land with outline planning permission for the development of 9 purpose built apartments.	Bosworth Road, Island Brow £129,950  How would you divide this garden up? The current owners of this three bedroom semi-detached house have over the years created a garden suitable for all, there are flower beds and lawns, and then a patio area, plenty for you to work on. Then inside the property the bedrooms are double and you will find plenty of family space. You can even get a car in the garage!	Caraway grove, Eccleston POA  Its Got A What? An Orangery! Oh yes, this is a really different two bedroom starter home. The ground floor has been re-modelled in a very modern style and has created a lovely space that does have to be seen, but would certainly have a place on many a property show. The rear of the property boasts parking and a family garden which is of course overlooked by the orangery. Tucked away in a cul-de-sac as well! NO CHAIN.	Marshalls Cross Road, Peasley Cross £109,995  Old fashioned with touches of modern fashion! This stylish three bedroom mid terrace house has several touches from the period of its built to entice but has also been modernised to create some more up-to date features. Added benefits include a pleasant garden to the front and a traditional garden front. D64

Travel's played a key role in Rick's culinary career

Celebrity chef Rick Stein on his latest adventures, book and TV series 'From Venice to Istanbul'

From some angles, Rick Stein looks like a victim of his own success.

So inspiring are his televised cookery quests to India, the Mediterranean and the Far East that every year, fellow foodies follow in his footsteps, thus taking the locations from 'off the beaten track' to 'on the tourist trail'.

"I think part of the reason the programmes are successful is because people want to go to the places we've been to," explains 68-year-old Stein, who adds that it's "lovely" when people are inspired by the shows.

"Sometimes I think, 'Would you really want to go there?' Quite a lot of the time, they are slightly quirky places that say something about the area, but we look on the internet and there are people doing tours on the back of where we've been.

"Sometimes I say to David, the director, 'We don't want people coming here, it will ruin it!'"

Then there's the way his name is occasionally used in vain after he's visited an area or a restaurant. For instance, 15 years ago, he had some admittedly "fantastic fish and chips" in a Scottish restaurant.

"They've still got this thing up saying, 'Rick Stein says this is the best fish and chips in the country,'" he explains.

"Well it's changed hands about three times - so some aggrieved customer of the shop wrote to me saying, 'Do you know we've had the most disgusting fish and chips and they're saying that you're recommending it?' I once went in there and actually took the stuff [the sign] down and walked out!"

Last year the chef, who travels to Australia three times a year to work on his restaurants out there, headed back to the Mediterranean for his latest six-part BBC Two series and accompanying cookery book, From Venice To Istanbul (starting on Friday, August 7).

Between weaving around the Mediterranean and chatting to interesting local characters, including the Albanian guide who "was a good friend of the prime minister Edi Rama, good at her job and had the additional advantage of looking like Audrey Hepburn", Stein found himself in a "ludicrous situation" in some of the restaurants he visited en route.

If he was recognised, sometimes the "top person" - the one who wouldn't usually cook, as they'd ordinarily leave that to the servants and cooks - would take the reigns in the kitchen to have their moment of glory on the camera, despite "almost never having cooked it before".

"You're just thinking, 'Oh for God's sake, just get the cook to do it!'" Stein recalls with a grin.

"But you can't tell them that. It can be a bit of a disadvantage if people know who we are and potentially what sort of business that could bring them, so we do try to find people that wouldn't know us from a bar of soap, but it doesn't always turn out that way," he adds.

If you fancy exploring some of Stein's recipes, here's a recipe from his new book to try at home.

- (Serves 8)
- For the pastry:
- 170g plain flour, sifted, plus extra for dusting
- Pinch salt
- 100g unsalted butter, cubed
- 50g caster sugar
- 1 egg yolk
- 50ml double cream
- For the filling:
- 500g mascarpone cheese
- 6tbsp clear honey
- 6 large, 7 medium or 8 small fresh figs, stems trimmed, halved
- For the pastry, mix the flour, salt and butter until it resembles breadcrumbs, and then stir in the sugar. Mix the egg yolk and cream, and add to the flour mixture so that it comes together to form a dough.

- On a floured surface, roll out the pastry and use it to line a 26cm, loose bottomed flan tin. (If too difficult to handle, wrap and chill for 30 minutes in the fridge.)
- Trim the edges of the pastry, cover with cling film and rest it in the freezer for 30 minutes.
- Heat the oven to 180C/gas 4.

Line the pastry with baking parchment, fill with baking beans or rice and bake blind for 10 minutes. Remove the paper and beans and cook for a further three minutes. Take out of the oven and lower the temperature to 160C/gas 3.

- Soften the mascarpone with the honey in a small saucepan over a low heat. Pour into the pastry case, then lay the figs on top, cut-side up. Bake for 30 minutes until just starting to turn golden around the edges. To serve, allow to cool to room temperature before removing from the tin and cutting.

3 OF THE BEST...

Primadonna Extra Virgin Olive Oil, £1.99 for 750ml (Lidl)

Gently nutty, this delicious oil is at snip at less than two quid, and is great for drizzling over salads and dipping breads into. No wonder it consistently wins praise at blind tastings.

Specially Selected Extra Virgin Olive Oil, £1.99 for 750ml (Aldi)

Olive Oil, £1.99 for 750ml (Aldi) Like the Lidl oil, Aldi's offering has plenty of depth of flavour and has also earned plaudits. Also a real steal, and a little oil will go a long way.

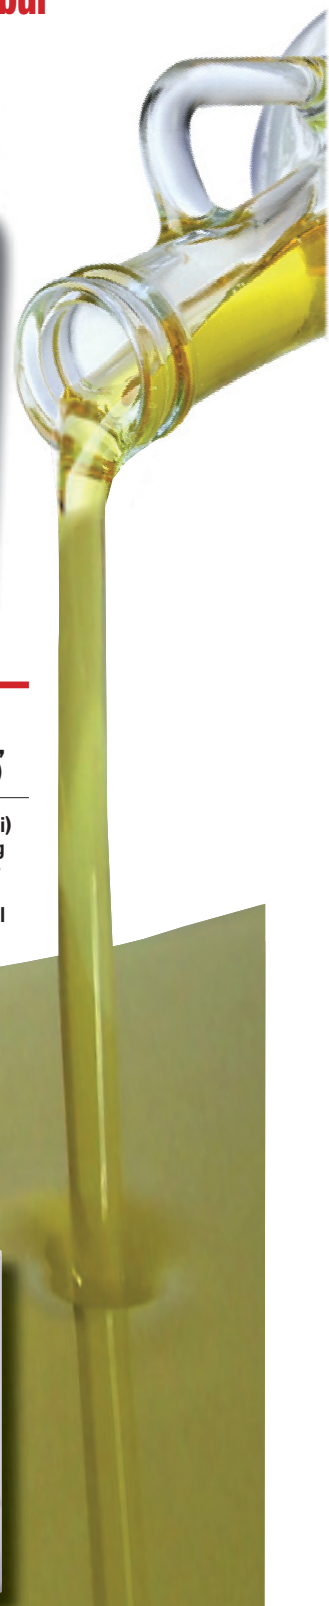

Brindisa Arbequina Extra Virgin Olive Oil, £11.35 for 1L (Ocado)

If you want to splash out on an oil, this offering from Brindisa is a good choice. Made with olives from Northern Spain, the slightly almond flavour livens up salads and risottos, while also being delicate enough not to overpower dishes

Tipplles for tapas

Sam Wylie-Harris recommends some wines from Spain for top tapas matches

We all dream of a place in the sun, but if you're not jetting off to the Costa del Sol or trendy Barcelona, a tasting flight of modern Spanish wines and a few tasty tapas will bring you one step closer to the sunshine coast.

To lay the foundations for building your own bodega, here are some vinos that have the charm and staying power to make you feel like it's fiesta time... even though your feet haven't left the ground and you don't need to shake the sand from your shoes.

Bodegas Muga Rioja Blanco 2014, Spain (£11.25, www.bbr.com)
White Rioja can sometimes be overlooked. Not so with this blend of 90 per cent viura with a splash of malvasia to add a little fat and richness. With a good use of oak, balance and freshness, the expressive bouquet of honey, orange blossom and sweet vanilla notes leads to apple and subtle pineapple flavours, and the acidity brings a lift to the creamy texture. Try with shrimp, serrano ham and manchego cheese.

Sendero das Meigas Godello 2009, Spain (£12.99, www.laithwaites.co.uk)
Godello is a white grape from Galicia in north-west Spain and worth seeking out if you're fond of a rich, fresh style with delightful honey and apricot flavours. Opening with apricot and honeyed notes, the silky, soft palate is concentrated with bright, citrus flavours and the lush finish is balanced by good minerality. Delicious with scallops and crab.

Codorniu Cuvée Barcelona Brut, Spain (£10, Sainsbury's)
Catalonia is the home of cava (meaning cellar) and Codorniu produces some of Spain's best bubbly. A blend of three cava grapes - macabeo, xarel.lo and parellada - the tiny beads of bubbles have an attractive creamy texture with a delightful flowery nose and well-balanced fruit. Enjoy any time of day with seafood, fried fish, assorted cheeses and cold meats.

Vent del Mar Garnacha Negra Syrah 2011, Terra Alta DO, Spain (£11.99, www.laithwaites.co.uk)
Garnacha is the rich, vibrant red we all want to chew on when it's in the hands of a talented winemaker. The finest vines, and most expensive wines, come from Priorat, south of Barcelona, but this little gem from Terra Alta (next door) can hold its own. The violet aromas, rich raspberry and cherry fruits with ripples of cassis, add a juicy freshness to the bright berry notes.

Vina Real Rioja Crianza 2011, Spain (£11.99, www.cheer-swinemercants.co.uk)
This Crianza has a little bit of ageing in American and French oak, along with bottle ageing. Elegant and ripe, it's tempranillo dominant with a small proportion of garnacha, graciano and mazueta and the winemaking team suggest pairing it with rump steak and pork meatballs to complement the brambly aromas.

Could bike rides be the solution to keeping a pre-teen and toddler happy on holiday in France? Noreen Barr finds out Keeping both my children happy when it comes to holidays is no easy feat. They are separated by an eight-year age gap and have strong, conflicting opinions on just about everything.

The older one is 11, the younger one is three and both are at that equally tricky stage. This time, though, I felt sure I'd found the perfect solution. "We're all going on a cycling holiday," I announce to two delighted squeals of glee. "In France," I add brightly.

And a few weeks later, the children, myself and husband Mark are whizzing along a shady forest path in Saint-Jean-de-Monts.

Speeding along at a demented pace doesn't even hurt too much, because Saint-Jean-de-Monts is in the almost flat region of the Vendee. There are no cars to fear because the coastal town has 26 glorious kilometres of safe, designated cycle paths.

When we reach the esplanade, we pop our bikes into a handily placed rack beside a children's climbing zone.

Over the grassy sand dunes, we catch our first glimpse of the beach.

That night Mark and I sip some well-earned red wine on the terrace outside our comfortable mobile home at the Siblu holiday parc Le Bois Dormant.

The parc, on the edge of Saint-Jean-de-Monts, is peaceful and spacious. Max can cycle off alone to make new friends or just zoom around. The heated outdoor pool gets the thumbs up too.

A few days on, we are off to Le Grand Defi, a "forest adventure" involving death-defying assault courses in the treetops.

Eve takes on the low-level course, suitable for two years and upwards. I look towards the huge neighbouring lake and see Max flying across it on a sky-high zip wire.

"That was brilliant," the kids agree afterwards.

Our holiday made me realise just how much they have in common, and how little that age gap really matters.

■ Noreen Barr was a guest of Siblu's four-star Le Bois Dormant holiday village in the Vendee. A seven-night stay from May 28, 2016, starts from £476, for up to six people sharing a two-bedroom holiday home with terrace. Visit www.siblu.com or call 0871 911 2288. ■ Bikes can be hired on site.

Working against cancer

Why screening could be right for you...

The term company benefits usually conjures thoughts of a company car, perhaps private health insurance and dental care if you're lucky.

For some workers however, checks against cancer might be on the cards too.

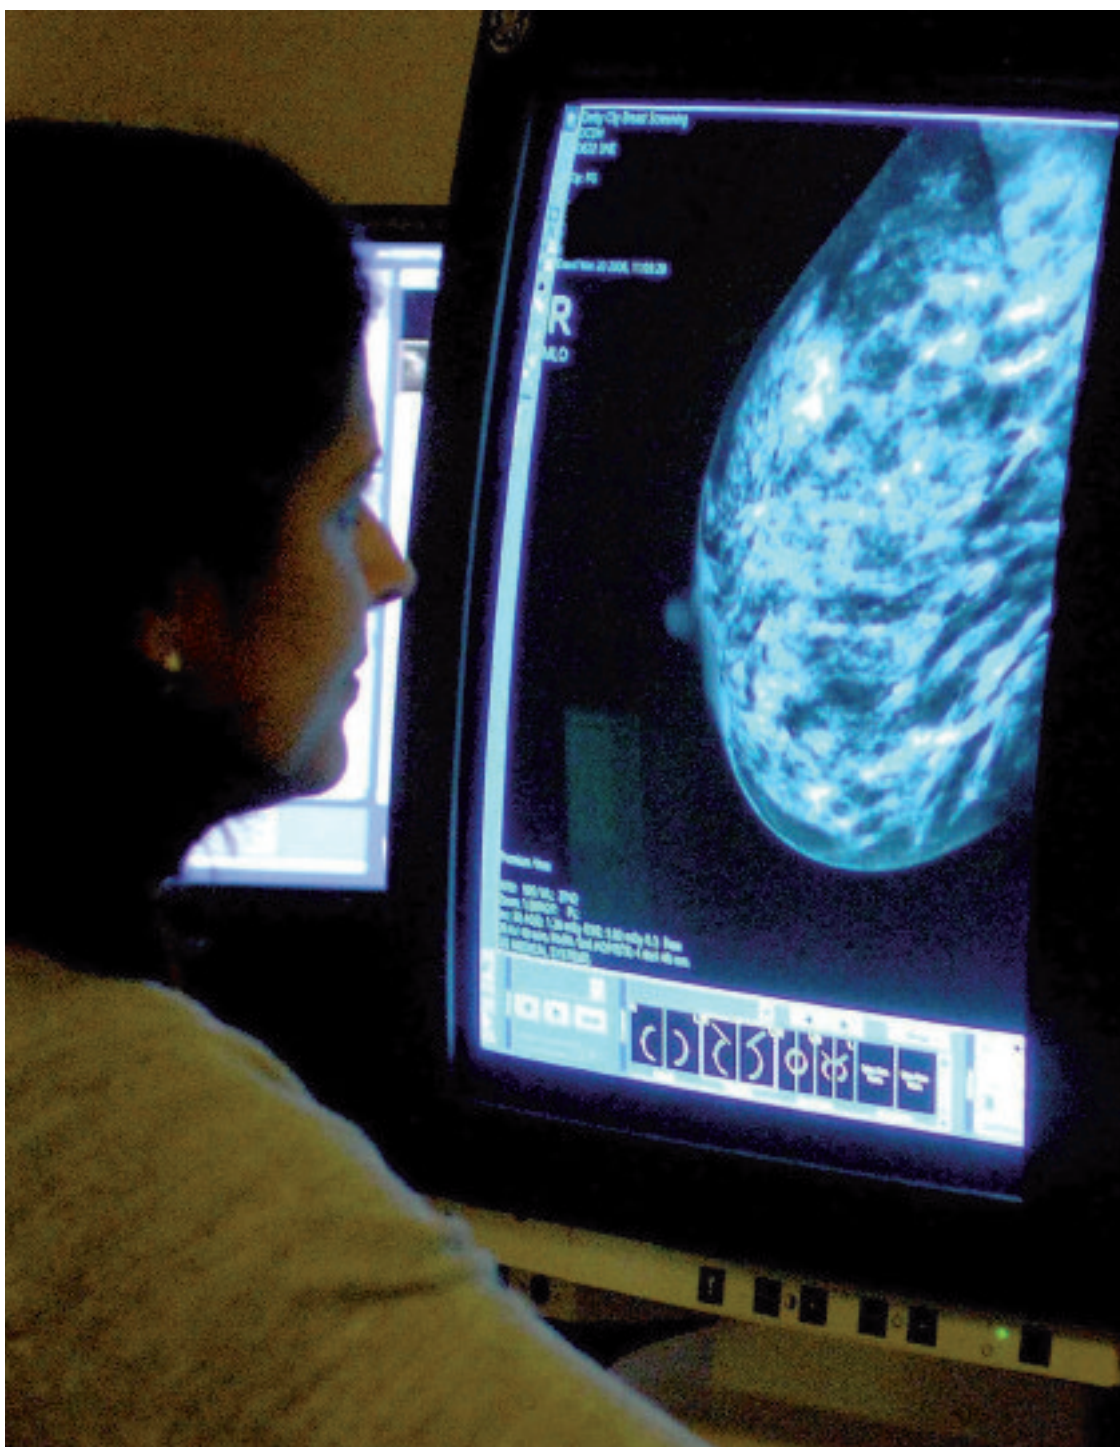

Cancer rates are rising, and estimates now suggest that around half of Britons will be diagnosed with the disease during their lifetime.

And although cancer's more common as people get older, more than 100,000 working age Brits are diagnosed each year, with more than 700,000 people living with cancer below retirement age.

There are already national screening programmes for breast, bowel and cervical cancers - though they are only for the age groups and genders for whom the benefits of screening have been shown to outweigh negative possibilities, such as false positive results and the anxiety that can cause - and now some private companies are taking it upon themselves to provide cancer education and screening for their employees.

PERKS OF THE JOB

■ The health screening firm Check4Cancer (Check4Cancer.com) offers cancer education programmes and early diagnosis opportunities for staff at participating companies.

■ They deliver cancer risk assessments and risk-specific early cancer detection tests for cervical, skin, breast, bowel, lung and prostate cancers.

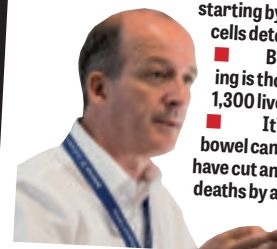

■ Staff with abnormal test results are either directed to a network of specialists or referred to an NHS specialist.

LIFESAVERS

■ Cervical screening is estimated to save around 5,000 lives a year, often by preventing cancer from starting by treating abnormal cells detected in smear tests.

■ Breast cancer screening is thought to save around 1,300 lives annually.

■ It's estimated that bowel cancer screening will have cut annual bowel cancer deaths by about 2,000 by the year 2020.

SCAN CAUTION

■ While imaging techniques like CT and MRI scans can help diagnose cancer, experts say they're not recommended as a screening technique for healthy people with no reason to believe there's anything wrong.

■ "None of us are perfect, but once they see them on a scan, doctors may think they need more investigation, so people can end up having lots of extra tests and often, there's nothing wrong with them," said Sarah Williams, right, of Cancer Research UK.

A WORKING FORCE

■ Williams also says workplaces can provide a good opportunity for experts to help people reduce their risk.

■ "We'll talk to them about having a healthy lifestyle and how that can make a huge difference to reducing risk," she explains. "It's about encouraging people to get to know their bodies, so if they notice anything different they'll go to the doctor, and helping people understand more about cancer."

IN MEMORIAM

BROWN (Margaret)

Loving memories of a dear wife August 13th, 1998

I shall never forget the one I loved, the voice I heard each day. The countless things you did for me, in your kind and loving way. You gave me years of happiness, then came sorrow and tears. But the memories I have of you, I will treasure through the years.

From loving husband Robert Howard xxx

McLAUGHLIN (Gerald) (Ged)

Treasured and loving Anniversary memories, 18th August 2010. Also Birthday memories for 10th August.

We made a vow till death us do part. But when it happened it broke my heart. A lonely home, a vacant chair, a loved one missing everywhere. When day is done and shadows fall, that's the time I miss you most of all.

Your loving and devoted wife Ruth xxxx

Real race against time

By Matt Joy

@StHelensReport

Silverstone Auctions' efficient car handling was tested to the limit when racing driver Justin Maeers, the proud new owner of a 1959 Cooper Monaco, declared he would like to race it in the Stirling Moss Trophy, the morning after he bought the car.

The auction staff had to complete paperwork and physically move the car to the circuit's scrutineering area all in under 10 minutes – just in time to reach the deadline for the class the buyer chose to race in.

Managing director of Silverstone Auctions and racing driver, Nick Whale, says: "We like to be responsive to our customers' needs.

"But it must be said even by our standards this was an unusual request.

"It was all hands to the pump for the Silverstone Auctions team but I am so pleased that we were able to meet the challenge and get the car on track.

"From the sales room to the race track in under 10 minutes – what other auction house can do that?

"The enthusiastic outlook of Mr Maeers is typical of our buyers – to take the most expensive lot of the night and immediately put it on the track is commendable.

"I very much applaud his efforts."

The 1959 Cooper Monaco in question headlined the inaugural Competition Car Sale on Thursday, July 23, and sold for £219,375.

Unfortunately, when it came to the race, Maeers reportedly only managed just two laps of the circuit and was forced to retire.

He admitted that the gearbox had been damaged due to his unfamiliarity with the vehicle.

The three tops for Town

CHADDERTON	1
ST HELENS TOWN	3

St Helens Town got their campaign off to the best possible start with a come from behind win against last season's beaten play off semi-finalists Chadderton.

Town came into the contest with history against them as they had never won at Andrew Street on their nine previous visits, drawing four and losing five and after an early chance saw Johan Du Toit's effort deflect off a defender and strike the crossbar they drifted out of the game and it was no surprise when the hosts took the lead on 25 minutes. James Curley advanced down the right wing before cutting inside and trying his luck from the edge of the box his effort was stopped by Graham McLoughlin in the Town goal but he was unable to hold the effort and Macaulley Harewood was on hand to prod the loose ball home. This setback awoke

Town from their slumber and they responded quickly first Du Toit headed an effort off the crossbar and the equaliser came just after the half hour mark when skipper Andy Gillespie collected a through ball, fed it to Jack Marshall who was pulled and jostled by two Chadderton defenders but he kept his composure and feet to slalom between them and fire home from an acute angle off the inside of the right hand upright.

The second half was all about St Helens Town as the visitors dominated possession and created change after chance. Ten minutes after the restart Du Toit linked with Jordan Lorde but his effort was well saved by Sean Carr in the home goal before Gillespie muscled a defender off the ball cut inside and found his thunderous effort tipped onto the post by Carr.

Midway through the half Carr was again called into action as this time he denied Lorde in a one on one situation before a dangerous in-swinging corner from the right reached Du Toit on the far post but he could only find the side netting. With time ebbing away Town were still pressing and another ball into the box caused problems for the home defence and when it was cleared to the edge of the box Lorde collected it but his effort went over the bar.

Town eventually got the goal their play deserved with 90 seconds of normal time remaining, Lorde advanced to the edge of the box where he fed a fine ball to substitute Alex Russell who made no mistake staying composed to fire home past Carr and the points were secured deep in added on time when a counter attack saw another substitute this time Marcus Perry collect a clearance on the right wing and press forward, he drew a defender before lofting a well weighted ball over him into the path of Lorde who found the net which was no more than he and St Helens Town deserved. Town are in FA Cup action this Saturday as they visit Maine Road with a 3pm kick off.

Skilful children are on the ball at holiday camp

A sports camp for children in St Helens has proved to be a smash hit.

Held at Selwyn Jones Sports Centre, Inspired Sports Holiday Camp allows boys and girls aged four-11 years to try their hand at various indoor and outdoor activities including hockey and football with fully qualified coaches.

The camp is running for a total of five weeks throughout the summer holidays but for just £10 per day, children can enjoy a week of activities resulting in competitions and challenges, with a trophy presentation on the final day that parents can attend.

St Helens Council's Cabinet Member for Public Health and Wellbeing, councillor Andy Bowden, said, "The Inspired

Sports Holiday Camp is a fun way to keep your children active over the summer holidays and will have a great impact on their health and wellbeing, for it promotes mental and physical fitness, social behaviour and encourages team spirit and fair play."

Discounts will be available for families bringing more than one child, while Go Active members will receive £5 off the price of a full week.

Spaces can now be reserved for the October half term sessions at Selwyn Jones Sports Centre and Sutton Leisure Centre commencing Monday, October 26.

RAINHILL SPICE INN V LEIGH

As far as the weather was concerned, finally we had a cricketing day.

After winning the toss Leigh had no hesitation to bat on the excellent white wicket and quick outfield. After 42 overs the patience displayed by Leigh was working and at 112 for 1, because they had wickets in hand, they were looking to post a huge score.

This was mainly due to the defensive skills of Zelan (78) and Foster (22) but when they were out, the collapse followed. Qureshi (24 overs 6 for 45) was supported by Williams (2 for 54 off 13) and Wilding (1 for 17 off 7) to remove the batsmen. Dempster (18) showed some resistance which allowed Leigh to declare on 165 for 9 from 55 overs.

With the Rainhill innings starting at 4.33pm, there was plenty of time to chase the target if they displayed the same patience as Leigh.

Unfortunately, this was not the case. At 50 for 1 this should have been a walk in the park but the immaturity of the Rainhill batting line up was apparent.

Rotheram (24) batted well but it was Edmundson batting at five that showed some application against the leg spin of McKeirnan (3 for 25 off 19) and the off spin of Housley (3 for 39 off 9).

He was the last man out as Rainhill ended on 136 off 47 overs. With eight overs left, this was really a chase Rainhill should have made.

LEIGH SECOND VS RAINHILL SPICE INN SECOND

Rainhill Spice Inn second team positively elected to bat on the Leigh shirt frontier.

This was justified when most batsmen got into double figures. The Rainhill Spice Inn innings revolved around the maiden century from Higham (103no) and the run a ball aggressive innings from Yate (25) and O'Toole (38).

Seddon (14 overs 3 for 79) worked hard on the batting friendly track but couldn't stop the Rainhill declaration on 221 for 6 from just 41 overs.

Hayes (47) started well and at 66 without loss, Rainhill reverted to spin. This was rewarded when Appleton (5 for 22 off 11) and Connolly (4 overs 3 for 7) removed the Leigh resistance and they capitulated to 107 all out from 32 overs

Table-toppers are held to draw by battling Rainford

Rainford travelled to table-toppers Colwyn Bay and returned with a hard fought draw to maintain their challenge in this season's Liverpool Competition Division One.

They compiled 278 for 8 before declaring with a team batting performance led by 61 from skipper Paul Farrar built on an opening stand of 82 from Matt Bailey (41) and Joe Nottor (42). Will Threlkeld (39) and Ravi Mistry (47 not out) boosted the total at the end with an impressive display of fast scoring.

Colwyn Bay made progress with Adam Campion making 115 until being run out by an excellent piece of fielding from Bailey. A spell of bowling from Andy Davies (5 for 99) then led them to shut up shop in the final few overs finishing on 257 for 8. The second X1 lost by 66 runs to Liverpool and the 3rd X1 recorded an 8 wicket win on Sunday at home to Southport and Birkdale.

Scott gives Saints order of the boot

CATALANS	26
SAINTS	16

SAINTS lost again in France courtesy of Scott Dureau, whose boot proved the difference between the sides in the opening round of the Super 8s.

Dureau kicked 12 points and created his team's opening score as the hosts shocked the Saints to keep alive their slim chances of reaching the end-of-season semi-finals.

Ben Pomeroy was dismissed for a shoulder charge to the head on St Helens' Josh Jones three minutes into the second half.

The Catalans opened the scoring in the 12th minute, when Dureau's neat kick to the in-goal area was touched down by Tony Gigot. Dureau converted.

Dureau added a penalty goal on 20 minutes to take the score to 8-0.

St Helens captain Luke Walsh scored the Saints' first try after good work by Adam Swift down the left. Walsh added the extras to narrow the deficit to 8-6.

The home team extended their lead on the half-hour mark, Louis Anderson charging on to Ian Henderson's short ball to score. Dureau converted to restore the Catalans' eight-point cushion.

Good work by Adam Quinlan created Saints' second try five minutes before half-time as Matty Dawson dotted down in the right corner, but this time Walsh could not add the conversion.

There was time before the interval for Morgan Escare to extend the Catalans' lead, racing over from 60 metres out. Dureau converted to take the score to 20-10.

The Catalans' ambitions were hindered three minutes after the break as Pomeroy was sent off for a shoulder charge to the head, but the 12 men made light of their numerical disadvantage and went on to stretch their advantage through two penalty goals from Dureau.

Joe Greenwood scored close to the posts from Walsh's flat pass, however, and Walsh added the extras to take the score to 24-16.

Saints were then aggrieved to have a try ruled out by the video referee for obstruction as Greg Richards looked to have scored.

But, with Dureau off the field injured, Krisnan Inu added a last-minute penalty to seal a memorable win for the Catalans.

'You get what you deserve in rugby and we certainly did'

St Helens coach Kieron Cunningham branded his side 'dumb' as they failed to capitalise on a man advantage following Ben Pomeroy's sending off in the 43rd minute.

He said: "I thought the best team won. We had plenty of opportunities but we were really dumb, my halves and hookers were really dumb, especially when they went down to 12 men.

"We got out-enthused. You get what you deserve in rugby league and we got what we deserved.

"Big Alex (Walmsley) did well, so did Greg Richards and Lee Greenwood - but that was about it."

On the dismissal of centre Pomeroy, Cunningham said: "It's a tough one, if it was my player I would be disappointed (with the decision), but a shoulder barge is a shoulder barge and it's a banned tackle isn't it?"

"There was contact with the head so you can understand the referee's decision.

"There were plenty of things that went against me tonight but I don't want to get into officials, last time I came over and got into officials, it ended up costing me a lot of money. It was a very strange game."

Catalans Dragons coach Laurent Frayssinous was pleased to see his team master the conditions as they won their Super 8s match to keep alive their slim chances of reaching the end-of-season semi-finals.

He said: "I'm very, very proud of the boys, especially to get the win against the champions with 12 men in poor conditions.

"We haven't performed well in poor conditions recently so it is good to see us play a lot better in these challenging conditions."

Frayssinous praised half-back Scott Dureau, who turned in a man of the match performance for the home side, kicking 12 points and creating his team's opening score.

He continued: "I think all the players were outstanding for us, Scotty in particular - the way he controlled the game.

"Scotty was very, very smart, his kicking game was good, he stuck to the game plan and defensively he was smart."

The decision to award the St Helens' first try to Luke Walsh was a contentious one and Frayssinous said: "It was not a try, I need some clarification. At some stage, I have to say that I am sick and tired of allowing tries that shouldn't be given.

"The Catalans fans don't deserve that, the club don't deserve that and at the moment, it's ridiculous."

Referee Richard Silverwood made a number of decisions then during a stoppage of play, asked the video officials to review them and overturned his initial decision.

Frayssinous said: "It is a lack of ability, they need to make the right decisions, that is what they are paid to do.

"I would be under pressure if I made the wrong decision, the club would be under pressure if they made the wrong decision.

"At some stage, someone needs to put their hand up and admit that they made the wrong decision and they need to pay for that.

"It's crazy to hide behind whatever they hide behind. I'm happy with the win and frustrated at the same time because it's the same thing week after week."

Wing ace nearing return from ankle surgery

Keiron Cunningham hopes Tommy Makinson could return to action next week

Injury latest: Ground control to Major Tom

Saints wing ace Tommy Makinson is on course to land back in the Saints starting line-up following two months on the sidelines with a horror ankle injury

The 23-year-old was enjoying a high octane run of form, scoring 13 tries from 17 appearances this season before a tackle while playing against Salford in June resulted in a broken fibula and ligament damage.

But coach Keiron Cunningham revealed Makinson has resumed training, and could even be in contention to face Huddersfield on Thursday, August 20.

“Not this week - but he’s not far off,” Cunningham revealed on a timeframe.

“He actually trained with us today at the back end so he’s another week away.

“Hopefully if he comes through all his progressions then there’s a good chance that Tommy will be back next week.”

Saints head into the final six games of the Super League realistically needing three wins to secure their place in the top four play-offs come October.

And Cunningham thinks Makinson’s return will act as a big boost as his side go in search of ticking off the wins they need to secure a crack at defending their title.

“He was the form winger in the competition wasn’t he so if you can get a potential England winger back in our team then it’s going to lift you,” he said. “And it’s good to have Tommy around, he’s a good character.”

Meanwhile, Cunningham said his players will quickly put last weekend’s loss to Catalans behind them as they look to consolidate their place in the play-off places when they face Hull this weekend.

“A bit disappointed with the result but we just move on don’t we? We’d have liked to get the points but we didn’t,” he said.

“We were a little bit off in a few areas but we still had plenty of chances.”

Jones sets sights on England place

“I chose Exeter because it’s the closest place I have family.

“I fancied a change and if I stayed up here I probably wouldn’t have moved out which is something I need to do, my partner and I need to go and find our own place and start our own lives which I’m really excited for.”

But there is the small matter of a Super League title to defend before Jones’ attentions can turn completely to his mission in the 15-man game.

Whenever I put a rugby shirt on I want to play well,” he said.

“Luckily I’ve hit a bit of form. I’m enjoying my rugby at the minute, enjoying being around the boys and I’m hoping to sign off with a bit of silverware.

“I have a lot of respect for Kes (Keiron Cunningham), I have a lot of time for him and I owe a lot to him. He gave me my chance when I was a kid so there was never any doubt I was going to give 100 per cent for the club and him.”

But he admits to having already set the ultimate goal of gaining international honours when he does eventually switch codes.

The former Blackbrook amateur played some union as a youngster, but having devoted his time to league for so many years - he is making a head start on swotting-up on his new sport.

“Without sounding too arrogant, obviously I want to play for England. That’s everybody’s ambition for going to rugby union,” he said.

“Rugby union’s quite technical. I’ve had this thing on my iPad which has everything on it I need. I’ll be playing centre and there’s a few little areas which are different so I’ve just been trying to nail them down.”

Despite learning about rugby union in his spare time though, Jones, who is expecting to start with a loan stint at Cornish Pirates, is adamant the extras he is putting in won’t interfere with his unfinished business for Saints.

“I’ve always been good at blocking things out. When I’m training, that’s it, I’m training,” he said.

Saints help young Liverpool Lions roar

Saints Community Development team have continued their work with Liverpool Lions by holding a Cubs Camp at their De La Salle home.

The champions work closely with their community clubs and this partnership with the Lions is just such an example.

Nick Moon of Liverpool Lions said: “We work really close with Saints and their development team and it was great to see the young children enjoying themselves.

“We had Boots (Saints mascot) down here and he is always a big attraction and happy to clown around and entertain the kids. On a more serious note this is a great way to attract young children to our sport and keep the numbers in Liverpool playing the game. I would like to thanks Saints for their continued support of our club and rugby league in Liverpool.”

After the great success of the Liverpool World Cup which saw nine Secondary schools from around the Liverpool area competing, Saints are continuing their programme in the area’s Primary and Secondary schools - starting in September.

FRESH NEW CHALLENGE FOR JOSH

Jones reveals why he's got to leave

SAINTS

By TOM MCCOOEY

@StHelensreport

Union-bound Josh Jones has revealed the need for a fresh start was the catalyst behind his decision to switch codes at the end of the season.

While the 22-year-old's reasoning may come as a surprise to some, having only been in the first team since 2012, Jones has been on the books at Saints for a decade - and sees the move south to Exeter Chiefs as the ideal chance to open a new chapter.

The 2014 Grand Final winner will make the 250-mile move at the end of this season - and plans to jump straight into his new job.

"It's a hard one because last year for me was the pinnacle of my career, winning the Grand Final," Jones explained.

"I've been here since I was 12 years old and I'm 22 now. I just need something new in my life, whether that was Australia or rugby union. My family is quite close to my heart so rugby union was a different challenge I needed to do for myself."

Jones has an uncle in Cornwall and explained how the move will allow him to spend more time with his cousins.

He added: "He's a headteacher and lives down there. Hopefully I can spend more time there and see my cousins growing up."
